Bergdorf Goodman at The Mark Hotel

By Christopher Luu

More About Bergdorf Goodman at the Mark Hotel:

Losing your luggage can be a catastrophe of epic proportions, but thanks to a new program from Bergdorf Goodman and the Mark Hotel, it doesn't necessarily mean that you've reached the end of the world. The shopping mecca and the storied hotel have teamed up for a package deal that lets you have access to Bergdorf's team of personal stylists and shoppers 24/7. That means if you've lost your suitcase, need a last minute gala gown or your beau needs to be fitted for a tux in the wee hours of the morning, they've got the entire store at your beck and call. Bergdorf has even arranged to let the Mark's guests know when certain must-have items hit the shelves before anyone else, so if you're scouring the city for that specific Celine bag or need those Louboutins before the rest of the city, the Mark is the place to be. And of course, BG is more than happy to have all of your items couriered right over to your room, letting you have the satisfaction of shopping without having to deal with crowds or something as silly as operating hours.
