A Fall Dinner Party Editorialist x The New Potato

Photography by Danielle Kosann, Styling and Art Direction by The New Potato

Accessories are a must-have in any sort of evening situation. It's a no-brainer. Nothing goes better with your new gold cuff than the glass of champagne you're holding – and don't try to act like you've never held your fork a certain way just to draw attention to a new bevy of rings from Catbird. Half the fun of dining out is taking your accessories with you. That's why there's a new obsession on The New Potato's radar – Editorialist - a website dedicated to great accessories and editorial. Does a better combination exist?

It does actually. Kate Davidson Hudson and Stefania Allen – co-founders of the website – turned a passion for what we like to think of as “the garnish” of fashion (accessories), into a beautiful e-commerce destination. We decided to usher in fall in the most decadent way possible with these ladies. It includes great accessories and great food, from a truly iconic venue. Take a turn through perhaps the most delightful dinner party to the senses you've ever encountered, all at Jean Georges Vongerichten's The Mark Restaurant at The Mark Hotel. After all, it's not every day you find a DANNIJO earring bursting out of the top of an artichoke...
